West Europe Alarmed By Shooting Down Of Yank Jet; Pilot Parachutes To Safety

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — A grave new incident in the cold war—the shooting down of an American jet fighter by Communist MIG15s over the U. S. zone of Germany—alarmed Western Europe today.

It was the first time Red aircraft had shot down an American plane over American-held territory.

Swooping out of Red-ruled Czechoslovakia, the Soviet-built trespassers destroyed a U. S. Air Force F84 Thunderjet in one blazing pass yesterday. It crashed and burned 15 miles inside American-occupied Bavaria. The pilot, 1st Lt. Warren G. Brown of Henderson, Colo., parachuted to safety and escaped with scratches and bruises.

Strong Protest Ordered

A second Thunderjet turned and streaked back to Fuerstenfeldbruck airbase, near Munich.

Neither Brown nor his patrol mate, 1st Lt. Donald C. Smith of Marysville, O., was able to fire a shot in the sudden clash although both their F84s carried ammunition. The U. S. planes were slower, too, and less powerfully armed than their Red adversaries.

U. S. Ambassador George Wadsworth at Prague was ordered by Washington to draft and deliver "the strongest possible protest" to the Czech Communist regime. American High Commissioner James Bryant Conant in Germany denounced the "wanton shooting" and warned that U. S. forces here "will know how to deal with future incursions of this type."

Attack Without Warning

Europeans were quick to note the Communist aerial attack occurred just a day after Georgi Malenkov, the new leader of the Soviet world, had promised in Moscow to continue Stalin's "policy of preserving peace."

In such previous Communist-American air incidents as the 1950 loss of a U. S. Navy Privateer in the Baltic, the Soviet government had claimed that its own frontiers had been violated and Red Air Force fighters shot at.

The two Red jets yesterday presumably were based in the vicinity of Pilsen, home of Czechoslovakia's huge Skoda armament works.

The American pilots told official interrogators they were well within the U. S. zone borders on routine patrol when the MIG15s jumped them without warning at an altitude of 12,000 feet in a clear, sunlit sky.

Shot Down

Lt. Warren G. Brown of Henderson, Colo., was shot down by Soviet made MIGs while flying over the U. S. zone of Germany, the Air Force stated. He parachuted to safety unhurt.

"Big Five" Deadlocked On Successor To Trygve Lie

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Renewal of the East-West deadlock loomed today as the U. N. came to grips with the problem of selecting a successor to Secretary General Trygve Lie.

The Security Council was scheduled to convene behind closed doors this afternoon to discuss formally the issue which has been the subject of intense behind-the-scenes maneuvering since Lie tendered his resignation last November.

There was little optimism that Communist and non-Communist delegates would be able to find a person both sides could accept for the job, which pays $40,000 in actual cash plus a $15,000 allowance for rent of a house and its upkeep.

The 11-nation council's "Big Five" members—the U. S., Britain, France, Russia and Nationalist China—must approve any selection unanimously. Any one of the five can veto a nominee.

Lie has declared he will stay on until a successor is chosen despite Russian opposition to him. They denounced him in 1950 for his support of the U. N. stand against Red aggression in Korea and since Feb. 2, 1951, have maintained that he holds his post illegally.

U. N. corridor negotiations have brought forward at least four possible candidates, with General Assembly President Lester B. Pearson of Canada appearing in the lead. Others are Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, Mexican Foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India and Nasrollah Entezam of Iran. All but Mrs. Pandit have served as president of the General assembly.

The Russians say their candidate is Poland's Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzeszewski—certain of rejection by the West—and declare they have no second nominee in mind. Reportedly they have hinted that Pearson might be acceptable, but they have accused him of pro-Western bias in his handling of the Korean question.

Assembly By-passed Council

The assembly by-passed the Security Council in 1951 to avoid a Soviet veto and extended Lie's tenure in office for another three years.

Buffeted by the Soviets on one side and by U. S. congressional probes and criticism for his handling of American employes in the U. N. Secretariat who had run afoul of loyalty probes, Lie offered his resignation last fall. He said he did it for the sake of unity and to try to help bring about peace in Korea.

Lie yesterday threw off his traditional cloak of neutrality—as prescribed by the U. N. charter—and bitterly accused the Russians of putting the crudest sort of pressure on him because of his strong stand on Korea.

"GIRL OF YEAR" IS CHOSEN FOR FOUNDERS DAY

Members of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority selected their "Girl of the Year" Tuesday evening, but the name of the member so honored was withheld from all but the tellers until the Founders Day dinner in April.

Marie Kuhn, Nominating Committee chairman, presented a slate of candidates for offices in the club, to be voted on at the next meeting. Other members of the committee included Phyllis Hess, Ruth Ann Rodgers, Ann Faber and Margaret Gigous.

Program Given

The president, Mrs. Hess, appointed as an auditing committee Ann Faber, Mae Kuhn and Patricia McCarthy.

A cultural program on "Nature's Landscape" was presented by Crystal McDermitt and Patricia McCarthy. The prize donated by Marie Kuhn was won by Carolyn Miller. Ruth Joseph was named to bring the prize for the March 24 meeting.

He plans to have the new volume completed by January, 1954.

Dr. Langsam is the author of numerous books, some of which are widely used as college texts. Among these are: "The Napoleonic Wars and German Nationalism in Austria," which was published in 1930; "Major European and Asiatic Developments Since 1935," which appeared in 1939 as did "In Quest of Empire: The Problem of Colonies," "Documenst and Readings in the History of Europe Since 1918," second edition 1951. BULLETINS

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — The U. S. charged today that Russia's bosses have embarked on a policy of imperialism, not because of any fear of aggression by any other country, but because of fear of their own people.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. told the U. N. General Assembly that the Soviet Union had lost the respect of the world because of its policy of "violent words and violent deeds."

The assembly broke out into wild applause, and had to be called to order, as Lodge spurned charges by Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko that the U. S. was doing everything in its power to prolong the Korean War.

SAYS SLEEPY DRIVERS CAUSE 'PIKE MISHAPS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission member told a legislative investigating committee today that there will be accidents on the famed toll road until someone finds a way to keep drivers awake.

"No one has discovered this as yet and until some one does, we will continue to have accidents," said Commissioner David E. Watson.

Watson and Commissioner James Torrance reported to the committee at the last of three public hearings called to uncover ways of bettering the toll road's safety record. T. J. Evans, commission chairman, could not attend due to illness.

"Relatively high speeds are not the cause of turnpike accidents," Watson asserted. "The human element—individual judgment—still is the underlying factor despite all engineering accomplishments."

Fame Carries Penalties

"Fame and prominence carry their own penalties—and because of the turnpike's fame and prominence, accidents there are spectacular and dramatic material for news stories.

"We know ourselves that the turnpike is substantially safer than all other highways," Watson declared.

The commissioner listed a number of measures the turnpike administration has taken already to make the 327-mile highway safer.

These, he said, included installation of larger directional signs, improved telephone communication along the road, doubling the towing service available and inspection of trucks entering the turnpike for lights and brakes.

As the hearing got underway the question of how many state policemen should patrol the superhighway became an important one.

"There seems to be some valid base for criticism of the number of police patrolling the highway," said Sen. Fred P. Hare Jr. (R—Somerset), chairman of the committee.

to expedite applications for adoptions made to the Child Welfare Services.

Rev. Nevin Frantz, president of the county home auxiliary, spent a half hour in a conference with the commissioners on recommendations made by previous county grand juries. The check disclosed that the majority of the recommendations have already been followed by changes at the county home, or plans have been made for such changes.

Funds Are Budgeted

Some of the recommendations made by prior grand juries will be carried out in work already arranged for, but which must wait completion of other work, the commissioners said.

Recommendations concerning changes in the laundry at the county home must wait a later date for consideration, President Clark Fetters said, because previously budgeted funds will be exhausted as a result of other major work at the county home. If driving makes you tired don't blame the road -it's your car's fault!

HERE'S HOW THE NEW '53 PLYMOUTH KEEPS YOU FEELING FRESH—ALL DAY LONG!

The new Plymouth fights the road for you, not with you! True balance designing "irons out" rough roads to give you a boulevard-smooth ride. Also, it takes the struggle out of steering, reduces the fatigue and nervous tension of long hours at the wheel. In the new Plymouth you know you've got complete control of the car and the road — and it's a mighty comforting feeling!

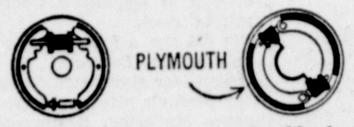

An old-fashioned "Rock of Gibraltar" hood design can keep you tense, on edge — worrying about what you can't see that's directly ahead of the car.

The new Plymouth has a low hood silhouette that lets you see more of the road directly ahead. This is modern styling—with a practical purpose!

You can't relax, even on a short drive, if you're cramped or crowded in an unnatural seating position. The new Plymouth gives you the lasting comfort and posture protection of Comfort Level seats. Full-depth, full-width coil springs — not the common platform type — always give you correct, cushioned support.

Nothing builds up nervous tension like brakes that give an uncertain, uneven response to the pressure of your foot on the pedal. But with Plymouth's Safe-Guard hydraulic brakes you drive relaxed, confident of smooth, even braking response at every stop. There are two hydraulic brake cylinders in each Plymouth front wheel, where competitive cars have only one, plus greater areas of Cyclebond brake lining that assure longer, more dependable braking.

How can you relax when you have to worry about blowouts? Plymouth's famous Safety-Rim Wheels protect you with special retaining ridges that hold a deflated tire safely on the rim in case of a blowout. These and many other thoughtful Plymouth features add up to the most carefree, as well as the most comfortable, ride ever built into a low-priced car!

Plymouth offers two great lines of cars:

Rupp, last Civil War nurse in Gettysburg and one of less than fifty in the United States, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. William Boyson, Darby, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Death was caused by the infirmities of age, Mrs. Rupp being in her eighty-eighth year.

It was Mrs. Rupp's aunt who secured the key of Christ Lutheran Church from the frightened sexton to open the doors so that the wounded soldiers might have a place of refuge.

Mrs. Rupp helped to wash and bind up the wounds of the injured and on the night of the first day's battle she made gallons of coffee for the wounded in the church at the home of her aunt. On the second and third day of the battle here, Mrs. Rupp and her aunt went to the field hospital in the woods at Natural Springs Park, where both worked until exhausted to alleviate pain and dress the wounds of the injured.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

EVERYWHERE

Some towns boast of mountains,
And some can show the sea,
The country farm is rich with charm
Which nowhere else can be.
The city's walls are stately,
The temple spires are fair,
But this is true—the skies are blue
And men smile everywhere.

Some places sit by rivers
And some by prairies wide;
Some hear the breeze in forest trees,
Some show their hills with pride;
But wheresoe'er you travel,
Yes, wheresoe'er you go,
You'll always meet with laughter sweet
And eyes with mirth aglow.

The tropics have their palm trees,
Which colder climates lack,
And home is home, where'er you roam,
And something calls you back;
But while I fare my home-land
And give to her my love,
Where'er I stray throughout the day
The Starry Flag's above.

These joys we hold in common
North South, East or West,
Whate'er we boast or prize the most,
The sea or mountain crest;
Glad children laughing 'round us,
And gentle mothers fair,
Kind hearts and true, and skies of blue
And friendship everywhere.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

OUR DEBT TO OTHERS

How little do we realize from day to day all that we owe to others. Many a scientist works early and late upon things that may affect the health and happiness of thousands of lives. Our average span of life has been increased ten years and more because there have been those who gave of their strength and skill to the study of the body and how best to preserve and care for it.

Our knowledge of nutrition has done wonders, and the introduction of vitamins into our diet has given a lift to health. More and more we learn of the valuable minerals and substances that were long neglected, but which now serve and scientists, however, we owe more than we can ever repay.

Take the matter of eye-glasses. Millions read and are happy because of the great improvements constantly being made in these articles so as to add to our comfort and happiness. The enjoyment that eye-glasses have brought to humanity cannot be adequately extimated. Often from early childhood glasses have kept that one in a world of beauty, free to gain knowledge where desired.

In every great industrial plant are those constantly at work, seeking out new ideas to benefit the multitude. Many a disease has long been conquered. And time will still add many another triumph. We ought to think of these benefactors of ours, and bless them within our minds and hearts. To all do we owe eternal gratitude.

In the world of the arts, as well, Oh, how much we owe — to the artists, the writers and the poets. Never can there be too much fine art or writing in the world. People forever hunger for something better, something to feed their souls as well as minds. There can't be too much encouragement dispensed in this world! Or too much appreciation!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Something to Think About."

Probing For Communists In Clergy Brings Avalanche Of Mixed Opinions In Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any suggestion that Congress look for Communists among the clergy is a very hot potato. But, while Sen. McCarthy knows a hot potato when he sees it, Congressman Velde juggles it.

That's one difference between these two Republicans—McCarthy of Wisconsin and Velde of Illinois—who nevertheless have some points in common:

McCarthy, 44, and Velde, 43, are both lawyers. Both were judges in their home states. And both are busy beating the bushes for Communists.

Two days ago Velde, chairman but apparently not boss of the House Un - American Activities Committee, which has been searching for Communists in education, made a statement about the possibility of looking for them among clergymen.

Committeemen Object

The roof fell in. All members of his committee who could be reached were against the idea. And some, but not all clergymen, made statements giving him the icy stare.

Confronted with this reaction, Velde said he may have been misinterpreted. McCarthy, watching Velde try to get his feet out of the flypaper, announced Velde could have any investigation of the clergy all to himself.

"I wasn't aware," said McCarthy, "of his plans to make such an investigation. He has my complete, wholehearted assurance there is not even the remotest possibility of our overlapping."

McCarthy, who began his rise to national attention in 1950 with charges of Communists in the State Department, is still working on the same project. He's chairman of a Senate committee investigating the department's Voice of America.

Lucky Or Smart?

But there is another difference between these two former judges. McCarthy can walk into a brier patch and come out acting like a man who landed in a rosebed. Velde sometimes gets scratched up.

"I have been called," said McCarthy recently, "probably every name in the world and it has not been effective against McCarthy. I have been accused of everything except murdering my grandmother."

Velde tangled recently with Mrs. Agnes Meyer, wife of Eugene Meyer, board chairman of the Washington Post. In a talk to a group of school administrators she criticized Velde and plans for investigating schools and colleges.

Had Wrong Woman

Velde tried to hit back by saying Mrs. Meyer had been mentioned by Pravda as writing to a Russian journal a letter expressing profound admiration for the people of the Soviet Union.

The Post investigated and found that the writer was not only not Mrs. Meyer but had a different name and lived in Canada. The Post said when Velde was told he had made a serious error, he refused to retract unless Mrs. Meyer retracted what she had said.

The Post story which told all this mentioned the world "libel." The next day Velde retracted. He blamed the error on an employe of his committe. He said later the employe was fired.

Sued Senator

McCarthy has done most of his accusing in the Senate where he can't be sued.

He did sue a fellow senator for libel—Benton, Democrat of Connecticut—for statements connected with Benton's plea to Congress to bounce McCarthy. Benton called him a man of "corruptibility and mendacity."

The attitude McCarthy adopted toward Benton was one of contempt. "That mental midget," he said. Benton was defeated for re-election in 1952 just as another Democrat, Sen. Tydings of Maryland, who also called McCarthy a liar, was defeated in 1950.

SOLONS NEARING FIRST MEASURE AFTER 10 WEEKS

By BEN FRENCH

HARRISBURG (AP) — The 1953 General Assembly is at least three legislative days away from final action on its first bill after 10 weeks of sessions.

That would be the latest date any modern Legislature has sent its first bill to the governor for approval. The 1931 session held the old record, waiting until March 16 to get its first legislation through both houses.

Unless there is unexpected delays, the first bill of the current session will complete its way through the legislative machinery on March 23—one week to the day after the old record.

New Code Bill

A 362-page measure bringing up to date the commonwealth's commercial code currently stands the best chance of becoming the 1953 sessions's first act. It has passed the Senate and was sent to the floor of the House yesterday.

It takes a minimum of three days for a bill to make its way through each house.

Meanwhile, there was a sign yesterday that the legislative wheels are beginning to turn faster as 21 bills were approved by House committees and sent to the floor for action.

That is only two less than the number reaching the floor during the previous two months. Senate committees have released 18 bills.

However, there has beeen no shortage of bills introduced in either house. There have been 649 House bills and 274 measures introduced in the Senate.

Legihlative Action

Of these the House has sent 11 bills to the Senate and the upper house has approved. The Senate has passed seven other measures.

Only major administration bill to pass either house is the much-amended measure to put the question of calling a constitutional revision convention on the Nov. 3 election ballot.

MUSMANNO TO FACE CRIMINAL CHARGE TODAY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Disty. Atty. James F. Malone said a criminal information will be prepared today charging Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court with hindering a trial witness.

The Allegheny County official said the charge is based on an accusation last month by Mayor John J. Mullen of nearby Clairton that Musmanno suggested Mullen drop prosecution of two Clairton councilmen and a coal operator.

A jury convicted councilmen Caesar Ricci and Ernest Dequenne and Fred Fiore of bribery. Mullen, the state's principal witness, said Ricci and Dequenne accepted $1,000 bribes each from Fiore in exchange for permission to remove coal from city-owned land. An appeal is pending.

Malone said Mullen and Musmanno differed entirely regarding a conversation they had Feb. 3 before the trial began and it is up to the courts to decide which is telling the truth.

"I have no comment," said Musmanno when told of Malone's action. "I know nothing at all about it and can say nothing now."

At the time of Mullen's charges, Musmanno declared:

"I did not by the wildest stretch of the imagination ask Mayor Mullen to do anything about the case."

PHOTOGRAPHS BOMB AND DIES

TOKYO (AP) A young Navy cameraman captured on film the last seconds of a wild bomb which skidded toward him down a carrier flight deck. Then he was killed as the bomb exploded.

The Navy release the story today.

Hot fragments and flames killed another man and wounded 15 more when the bomb blew up on the deck of the fast U. S. carrier Oriskany off Korea's east coast last Friday.

The Navy said six of the wounded still are in serious condition, but all are showing definite improvement.

The tragedy occurred when a Navy Corsair warplane returned from an air strike with one bomb still dangling from the wing. As the plane touched the flight deck, the bomb tore loose, bounced twice on the deck and exploded.

NEW SUPERTANKER

NEW YORK (AP)—A new supertanker capable of hauling enough gasoline to operate 13,500 automobiles for one year has been added to the Sun Oil Co. fleet.

The 30,000-ton, 815-foot craft is the first of four ordered from the Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. The tanker is capable of hauling 215,000 barrels of crude oil or nine million gallons of gasoline at a speed of 16½ knots. The vessel is turbine-propelled.

In 1952, the average American consumed 161 pounds of meat — 69 of them pork and 60 of them beef.

Lebanon Valley Springs Big Surprise; In Regional Finals

NEW YORK (AP)—The 16 teams that will fight it out for the NCAA basketball championship were decided today with only one "outsider" in the select group.

Six teams—Notre Dame, De Paul, Holy Cross, Seattle, Santa Clara and Lebanon Valley—made the regional finals, scheduled for this week-end, last night.

The big surprise was little Lebanon Valley, which defeated mighty Fordham, 80-67, in Philadelphia. In the other half of the twin bill there, Holy Cross humbled Navy, 87-74.

In another double-header at Ft. Wayne, Ind., Notre Dame advanced at the expense of Eastern Kentucky, 72-57, and De Paul barely nipped Miami of Ohio, 74-72.

Seattle gained its spot by whipping Idaho State, 88-77, at Seattle and Santa Clara toppled Hardin-Simmons, 81-56, at Palo Alto.

Regional Lineups

So the regional lineup for Friday and Saturday looks like this and take your pick:

At Chicago—Penn vs. Notre Dame and De Paul vs. Indiana.

At Raleigh, N. C.—Wake Forest vs. Holy Cross and Lebanon Valley vs. Louisiana State.

At Manhattan, Kan.—Kansas vs. Oklahoma City and Texas Christian vs. Oklahoma A&M.

At Corvallis, Ore.—Seattle vs. Washington and Santa Clara vs. Wyoming.

Finals At Kansas City

The winners will to to Kansas City for the finals the following week end.

Meanwhile, in New York, top-seeded Seton Hall moved on to the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament by slapping down Niagara, 79-74, and will meet Manhattan tomorrow night. Duquesne topped Western Kentucky, 69-61, and moved on to the other semi-final against St. John's.

The NAIA tournament in Kansas City moved merrily along with nine games on the night's card. In the big one, Springfield (Mo) made a good start in defense of its title by mowing down Gonzaga, 95-74.

Other scores included St. Peter's (NJ) 81 Southwestern (Okla) State 60, Loyola of Baltimore 66 Portland (Ore) 64, and Tennessee A and I 89 Geneva (Pa) 88.

CHAMBERSBURG TOPS EPHRATA IN SEMI-FINAL

Chambersburg High, standard-bearers of the South Penn Basketball League, defeated Ephrata of Lancaster County 51-43 Tuesday evening on the Camp Curtin Junior High floor, Harrisburg, to advance to the final of the Class A, District 3, PIAA playoffs.

The Trojans, who copped their ninth South Penn title in 10 years this season, meet John Harris, Central Pennsylvania League champion, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Hershey Sports Arena for the district championship.

Ephrata gave the taller Trojans a stiff argument during the first half and trailed only by a 26-24 count at half time. However, Chambersburg's height and better reserve strength took its toll in the last half.

Chambersburg connected on but 20 of 85 shots from the field while Ephrata made good on 17 of but 49.

WRITER SAYS PET FANS ARE INCONSIDERATE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

I know a woman who doesn't like pets. But mostly she hates people with pets. I think she makes a good case against us.

She says we're rude, inconsiderate and insensitive to other people's feelings. And she says we're such passionate propagandists that millons of people who don't get all emotional about animals are scared to admit it.

This woman, I hasten to say, isn't one of those unfortunates with a morbid, unreasoning fear of animals. She thinks they are just fine, but they leave her cold. She doesn't enjoy having pets around her. She doesn't like catfur or dog-hair on the furniture. She doesn't enjoy the thought of eating from a dish which might have been used by an animal. She is indifferent and quite happy when domestic animals are around the place, but she believes that place is outdoors. She is neither flattered nor touched when a cat or a dog climbs into her lap or crouches adoringly at her feet.

Different Attitude

As far as attitudes go, I think hers is healthy and harmless, and I think, as a pet owner, that it's time some one gave her a hearing. Most of her friends are pet owners. Myself, I'm a member of a family ruled over by a small black and white cat of uncertain and undistinguished lineage who controls us with a paw of iron. I count the neighborhood quota of cats and dogs among my best friends. I find domesticated animals to be wonderful companions, fun to be with and easy to live with.

I think my friend is missing a pleasant experience because she's never had the responsibility for or the friendship of a pet. But I'm inclined to agree with her strong feeling that pet-owners have made such an issue of loving animals that it's forced millions of quite normal men and women into the uncomfortable position of pretending something they honestly don't feel.

Pet Propaganda

"You pet people," she exploded the other day after a rough hour being polite to a miniature French poodle with adoring owners, "have propagandized the love of domesticated animals to a point where any person who doesn't proclaim his adoration is considered to be some sort of a monster. I wouldn't dare come right out and say I don't want to own a cat or a dog or a budgie bird. You've written and talked so sentimentally — and so much — that most people have a sneaking idea there's something very wrong with a person who is indifferent to their charms.

"In fact, there is a general feeling that there's something downright suspicious about a person when an animal doesn't take to him."

It's the pet-lovers, who are at fault, she says. As far as the animals are concerned, she and they usually make some sort of an armed peace and get along all-right. But their loving owners are invariably determined to show her how really lovable and wonderful a pet is. Each pet owner has a theory that, once she gets to know Tabby, Rover or Polly, she'll realize how charming, appealing, smart, clean and well-behaved each is.

"Apparently, making pet converts is some sort of a challenge you pet people feel you must meet," she continued. "You won't rest until you've got all of us in camp. I'm giving lip-service to pet-loving, just because I haven't the courage. But I know there are a lot of us who don't worship pets, and I'd like to form some sort of organization to combat your appalling propaganda. I don't deny you the pleasures of owning a pet. All I'd like is to have the rights of the rest of us — not to be pet lovers if we don't want to be — recognized. You've got me so hamstrung that I go around inventing reasons — saying I'm allergic to animal hair, for instance — just to keep the pets of friends out of my house and me out of their houses."

Okay, so I'm convinced there are some people who don't like cats and dogs and birds. But I still think that if she got a puppy or a kitten and brought one of them up, she'd be a fool for an animal just like the rest of us. Meanwhile, I'll just be careful not to inflict my opinions or my cat on these — well, strange — people.

Football Dropped By NYU; Too Costly

NEW YORK (AP)—New York University, among the first half-dozen schools in the nation to field a football team, is the latest casualty to the high cost of intercollegiate athletics.

The Violets, who, except for wartime lapses, have had teams since 1873, dropped football yesterday. Chancellor Henry T. Heald said the move was "based on a frank and realistic appraisal of the cost of football in relation to the total financial status of the university."

N. Y. U., one of the gridiron powers of the country in the late '20s and early '30s under Chick Meehan, cancelled its 1953 schedule which included games with Army, Kings Point, Lafayette, Syracuse, Boston University, Holy Cross, Fordham and Temple.

In a welterweight clash, Cpl. Charles McNaughton, 147, of Philadelphia, decisioned Cpl. John Purnell, 146, of Philadelphia.

Pfc. Richard Edwards, 165, a middleweight from Williamsport, was knocked out by Pvt. Charles Henderson, 165, of New York City.

Albino Catfish Puzzle Fishermen

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—A couple of oddities—pure white catfish—are causing area fishermen to shake their heads in amazement these days. The two freaks turned up in a minnow dealer's nets in Lamar County.

Aaron Chennault, who has been selling minnows 47 years, caught the two albino catfish. One is about 7 inches long, the other about 5. Both Albinos have heads too small for mud cats, too large for blue cats and a square tail that isn't characteristic of a channel cat. Actually, the skin of the fish is transparent with the inside of the catfish showing pink.

The fish are bringing a steady stream of visitors to the Chennault place of business where he keeps them in a minnow vat.

PLAYOFFS IN ICE HOCKEY TO OPEN MAR. 24

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The earliest playoff competition in American Hockey League history will get under way either March 24 or March 26.

The league's Board of Governors and President Emory Jones announced the 1953 dates here yesterday.

Two preliminary playoffs, qualifying two teams for the title series will begin on either of the March dates. Title play will start either March 31 or April 7, depending on how long it takes to decide the preliminaries.

Cleveland On Top

The qualifying tests, juged on a three-out-of-five-games basis, will match the top four teams at the close of the regular season. The first and third teams will play in one series and the second and fourth finishers in the other.

The title playoff will be decided in a best of seven game set.

Cleveland currently paces the league, followed by Pittsburgh, Syracuse and Hershey. St. Louis and Providence remain within striking distance of Hershey's No. 4 spot.

The Pittsburgh Hornets aren't giving up hope of overtaking the pace-setting Cleveland Barons.

Hornets Thrast Hershey

The Hornets thrashed the Hershey Bears, 8-2, last night to move to within five points of the idle Barons. Pittsburgh still has an outside chance with six games left to play to Cleveland's four.

The St. Louis Flyers edged the Providence Reds, 6-5, in the only other league game.

Veteran Bill Eznicki led the Pittsburgh attack with two goals and four assists.

Rookie Guyle Fielder of St. Louis picked up three assists to tie Cleveland's Eddie Olson for the league's individual scoring lead. Both have 77 points.

Nino Valdes Meets Archie Moore Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Nino Valdes, every inch a heavyweight, steps up as another outsized opponent for light heavyweight champ Archie Moore, currently on a fight-a-week campaign, in a televised 10-rounder tonight at the St. Louis Arena.

The Cuban heavyweight king, weighing about 215 pounds, and St. Louisan Moore, estimated at his usual 175 or 180, move into TV camera range (CBS) nationally and locally at 9 p.m. (CST).

Kiner And Rickey Mum On Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One thing is certain in the contract battle between slugger Ralph Kiner and General Manager Branch Rickey it isn't a battle of words.

In fact, Kiner says he hasn't heard from the cagey executive in three weeks. And Ralph hasn't contacted the management because he feels the next move is Rickey's.

Kiner, who became baseball's highest paid performer last year with a reported $90,000 contract, has been working out privately and says he could begin playing games right away.

"I'm eager to be on my way to Havana as soon as we reach an agreement," he reiterated yesterday. Kiner has said he expects a cut but won't take the full 25 per cent slash allowed under baseball law.

RECESS PROBE ON COMMERCE DEPT. PROPOSAL

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General Assembly's Economy Committee probing a proposal to abolish the Commerce Department recessed abruptly today upon learning that Secretary Andrew J. Sordoni was in Florida.

The hearing was put off until later in the day.

Co-chairman Adam T. Bower (R—Northumberland) said William W. Behrens, deputy commerce secretary, would speak in Sordoni's behalf.

Absence Questioned

Bower banged the gavel ending the morning session while Rep. Anthony J. Petrosky (D—Westmoreland) shouted for the floor to ask more questions on Sordoni's absence.

Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D—Allegheny) said Sordoni, who has given up his $15,000 a year salary to take only $1 a year from the state, was the "only proper person" to speak for the department.

Says Fine "Laid An Egg"

Behrens later told a newsman Sordoni was ill in bed in his Coral Gables, Fla., winter home.

Bower also disclosed that Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia, chairman of the economy committee bearing his name, would not be on hand for the Commerce Department hearing. Chesterman asked to be excused because of prior commitments, he said.

Bower last night said Gov. John S. Fine "laid an egg on the doorstep of the Legislature" in accepting generally the Chesterman proposals.

"Now he wants us (the Legislature) to hatch it," he said.

SHARON NEARS SCHOOL LEAGUE, DISTRICT TITLE

By DICK HOENIG

HARRISBURG (AP) — Sharon, the team responsible for preventing Farrell from defending its state schoolboy cage title, today is one step away from succeeding Farrell as a league and district champion.

The high scoring Tigers, defeated just three times in 28 regular season tries, yesterday carved out a convincing and somewhat surprising 14-point triumph over highly-rated Washington.

The 64-50 victory elevated Sharon into Friday's championship playoff for the top prize in the western Pennsylvania Interscholastic League, which carries with it the Dist. 7 crown.

Ford City, victor in the WPIAL's Sect. 1 and winner of three straight playoff games, furnishes the opposition for Sharon.

Had 10-2 Record

The Tigers finished first in Sect. 3 with a 10-2 league mark, one game ahead of Farrell. The two battles between Sharon and Farrell resulted in a standoff with Farrell taking a 47-40 win after the issue had been settled.

Sharon's section triumph over Farrell eliminated the Steelers from the 1953 playoff. Farrell copped the WPIAL crown last year by downing North Union, McKeesport, and Washington in succession.

Sharon started off this month with a bye, then trampled Monaca and also beat Washington. Last night the Tigers put on the pressure in the second period and took a halftime lead. After that they were never headed.

The Dist. 7 titlist draws a first round bye in interdistrict play and meets the Dist. 5-6 winner in a preliminary Western regional next week. Whether it be Ford City or Sharon, the WPIAL's best is a good bet to reach the state final.

Allentown Nears Top

Allentown, a top Eastern favorite, also is one game away from a regional final following a 77-44 win over Ashland. The Canaries, 1951 state champ, play Slatington of the Lehigh Valley League Friday for Dist. 11 honors and the winner of that goes into the Eastern preliminary regionals with a first round championship bracket bye.

Tonight's two Class A tilts qualify the victors for the Dist. 6 and 10 finals. Johnstown (24-1) of the Tri-County league, meets Altoona (13-9) for the Dist. 6 finalist berth opposite Hollidaysburg.

Erie Tech (sect. 1) tangles with Sharpsville (Sect. 3) in the opening action of the Dist. 10 series. The winner goes against Meadville (Sect. 2) next week.

Hollidaysburg, the state's only Class A five to finish the regular season without a defeat, opened its playoff bid with victory No. 18 this year. The Golden Tigers, Central Mountain League champion, downed Lock Haven of the Central State circuit, 49-38.

Need Third Game

A favored Clearfield bounched back from last Friday's defeat in the best of three series against Bradford for the Dist. 9 diadem. Clearfield won the second game, 67-42, making a third game necessary to decide who succeeds Punxsutawney as Dist. 9 champ.

The third game is set for Friday at Dubois.

Chambersburg and Old Forge also won berths in district finales, Old Forge licking West Hazleton, 43-32 in Dist. 2, and Chambersburg taking the measure of Ephrata, 51-43, in Dist. 3.

Old Forge and Plymouth and Harrisburg John Harris and Chambersburg are the pairings for the district championships.

In other tourney action Mountoursville beat Athens, 55-51, for the Dist. 4 Class B title and Jenkintown, defending Class C champion, put away the Dist. 1 title by downing Prospect Park, 65-61.

Bubblers May Lose Star For Tonight

Boiling Springs High School's hopes of defeating the Camp Hill High cagers tonight at Dickinson College, Carlisle, in a Class B, District 3, PIAA playoff game were given a jolt Monday when Barry Dasher, 6-3 forward, reported he had injured his back in Saturday's game here. Dasher missed practice Monday and Tuesday but may see part time duty tonight.

The Bubblers, 23-2 for the season and Adams County League champions, will receive a severe test from Camp Hill. The Lion's lone losses were to William Penn, Harrisburg, 43-37 and to Swatara 46-44.

BILL PROPOSES $200 LICENSE FOR DETECTIVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Private detectives would be licensed by the commonwealth and regulated by the state police commissioner under a new House bill.

The measure would license private detectives for $200 every two years and detective partnerships or corporations for $300.

The bill, introduced yesterday by Reps. Raymond E. Wilt (R—Allegheny), Edwin W. Tompkins (R—Cameron) and Paul F. Jones (D—Allegheny), also requires employes of agencies supplying detectives, watchmen, investigators, guards or patrols to be fingerprinted by the state police and the prints filed in Harrisburg.

Private investigators would have to carry state identification cards with their pictures attached. Persons convicted of felonies could not apply. Each applicant would need five letters of recommendation from reputable residents of the community.

Other new House bills would:

Make the purchaser as well as seller of lottery or numbers tickets liable to arrest—Rep. Thomas P. Geer (R—Allegheny).

Vote On Sunday Bowling

Provide for a local option election on the question of permitting Sunday bowling — Rep. Edward Dunn (R—Northumberland).

Prohibit job discrimination because of age—Rep. Anthony J. Petrosky (D—Westmoreland).

Remove the State Milk Control Commission's power to set minimum retail milk prices—Reps. John J. Welsh, Herman Toll and Albert Leven, Philadelphia Democrats.

WILHELM WINS 2ND EXHIBITION TILT FOR GIANTS

By BEN OLAN
AP Sportswriter

Apparently Hoyt Wilhelm never has heard of the second-year jinx.

Wilhelm, last season's National League freshman pitching sensation, still is going about the business of saving games for the New York Giants. The 29 - year - old knuckleballer has nailed down two of the three Giant exhibition victories so far.

Yesterday, Wilhelm relieved rookie Allan Worthington in the ninth inning with four runs in, the bases loaded and only one Chicago White Sox batter out. He promptly retired the next two hitters and the Giants staggered off with a 16-14 win.

One For The Books

The Giants-White Sox homer - filled encounter was one for the books. New York trailed, 10-8, until they came up with eight runs in the eighth frame. Then the Chisox got to Worthington for their four tallies before Wilhelm snuffed out the rally. Whitey Lockman, Bobby Thomson, Daryl Spencer, Hank Thompson, Don Mueller and Ray Noble homered for the Giants while Chico Carrasquel and Minnie Minoso hit for the circuit for the White Sox.

At this time of the year the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the batters. But you couldn't prove it by the results of yesterday's games.

At Tampa, Fla., the Washington Senators shelled lefty Ken Raffensberger for nine hits and seven runs in three innings to overwhelm the Cincinnati Reds, 11-5.

Infielder Eddie Miksis hit a grand-slam homer as the Chicago Cubs walloped the Cleveland Indians, 10-4. Yearlings Herb Score, Dave Hoskins and Jake Stricker were the victims of Chicago's 10-hit attack.

The St. Louis Cardinals came up with the first serious casualty of the year in their game with the Boston Braves. Rookie shortstop Wally Lammers, attempting to steal, collided with Jack Dittmer of Boston and suffered a mild concussion. Dittmer also was forced to retire from the game.

The game eventually went to Boston, 7-5. They came from behind twice and then scored a pair of runs in the seventh inning to clinch the verdict. Rookie Jim Solt's pinch double was the vital hit in that frame.

In the best-played game of the day, the World Champion New York Yankees blanked the Boston Red Sox, 2-0. A two-run splurge in the fourth inning was enough to give the Yankees their third victory in four exhibition starts.

Dodgers Edge Phils

Bob Wiesler, Johnny Schmitz and Johnny Sain combined to limit the Red Sox to only three safeties.

At San Bernardino, the St. Louis Browns surged for four runs on four hits in the eighth inning to defeat Los Angeles, 7-6.

In a night game, Junior Gilliam, tabbed as Jackie Robinson's eventual successor, singled in the winning run in the eighth inning as the Brooklyn Dodgers edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

In another arc-lighter, the Philadelphia A's turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2. Carl Scheib and Frank Fanovich teamed up to limit the Bucs to eight scattered safeties.

The New York Giants made the most double plays (175) in the National League during the 1952 season. They also had the most passed balls (23).

Northern Joint High School In Use At Dillsburg

The $1,250,000 Northern Joint High School at the edge of Dillsburg went into use Monday as a junior-senior high school for the first time with between 500 and 600 boys and girls in the seventh through the 12th grades assigned there. Grade and junior high pupils have been using part of the building since the current school term opened last September.

The new building, one of the finest in the state, is in full use. The cafeteria has been placed in service, Supervising Principal William C. Evans said.

The building which occupies a 90-acre site was designed by Architect Edmund George Good Jr. and was built by Ritter Brothers, Harrisburg. Started about two years ago, it can accommodate about 850 pupils and has a large gymnasium and 648-seat auditorium. It serves the towns of Dillsburg, Franklintown and Wellsville and Monaghan, Carroll, Franklin and Warrington Twps. Elementary pupils who have been using the new building now are assigned to the old high school building in Dillsburg.

EDEN ASSERTS THIRD WAR HAS NOT BROKEN OUT

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared today that despite Korea, World War III has not broken out and there is no reason why it should.

Eden, addressing the U. N.'s General Assembly, said "it is nobody's interest that it should break out." He thereby differed from some American leaders who have stated we are already in World War III.

The British statesman said that "with the growing strength of the West there is no reason why it should break out."

Asks For U. N. Support

He called for support of the United Nations as a "world meeting place" where opposing forces can get together and try to settle their differences without war.

Eden called on the Communist world to agree to the Indian Korean plan which the assembly adopted last December. This plan would permit Red prisoners who don't want to go home to stay behind. He recalled that former Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky had said the prisoner question was the only issue preventing an armistice.

He warned those countries that "it does not pay to persist in a policy which has united the whole free world against them," and blasted the Reds for having "unceremoniously rejected" the Indian plan. It was adopted 54-5.

The free world's determination to resist aggression in Korea, Eden said, "may prove to have been a turning point in history . . . it may have averted the horrors of a third world war."

"It still lies within the power of those who began the conflict," he declared, to end it.

YORK SPRINGS DRESS FACTORY IN OPERATION

A new York Springs industry, the York Springs Dress Co., opened its doors and began production Monday in the renovated building formerly owned by the Snelbaker Manufacturing Co. on Willow St.

The plant is owned and managed by Herbert Y. Harris, 33, of Harrisburg, owner and operator of the Dillsburg Dress Co., opened in that borough in 1949.

Mr. Harris, who is married and the father of two girls, Barbara, 4, and Lisa, one year, is a graduate of William Penn High School, Harrisburg, and served in the United States Army from May, 1941 to 1945.

In New Guinea 30 Months

For two and a half years Mr. Harris operated a depot for the Ordnance Department in New Guinea. After serving for two months in Australia, he was discharged with the rank of technical sergeant.

Before entering the dress manufacturing business Mr. Harris conducted a diaper service in Harrisburg. He was active in Boy Scout work in Harrisburg. He is a member of the Dillsburg Lions Club and has played end man in the Lions annual minstrel show there.

The Dillsburg factory, opened in 1949, employs 35 women.

The Snelbaker building in York Springs had been vacant for several years. The Committee on Promotion for Community Benefit of the York Springs Lions Club contacted several enterprises in efforts to bring a new industry to York Springs.

Mr. Harris conferred with Baird Hershey, member of the York Springs Lions Lions Club, relative to the purchase of the building and purchased the property from the Snelbaker Manufacturing Co., who vacted the premises several years ago.

Building Is Renovated

The building has been completely renovated. A new heating plant has been installed. New toilet rooms have been added and an new system of fluorescent lighting put in. The equipment is new. The building has been painted and redecorated, inside and out.

The first floor of the building is occupied by the machinery, and the second floor by the offices and a York Springs retail outlet, which Mr. Harris says will be opened in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Smith, who operate the Community Food Fair store, assisted in securing employes, and turned over to Mr. Harris a list of 23 names of prospective workers. Mr. Harris says he expects to have 35 women employes in the near future. If he can secure more experienced operators he will add to the present building, he says.

Both the Dillsburg and York Springs factories manufacture high quality house dresses, "brunch" coats and house coats, which are retailed at leading stores throughout the nation.

Mr. Harris is the author of "My Daze," regular Wednesday feature in The Gettysburg Times.

Give cole slaw a new taste sometimes; add sections of fresh orange to it.

Two Dress Factories And Proprietor

Herbert Y. Harris, Harrisburg proprietor of the Dillsburg Dress Co. which opened in that borough in 1949, opened a second dress manufacturing plant, in the former Snelbaker building in York Springs, Monday. The top photograph, left, is a view of the exterior of the building, while shown below is the Dillsburg factory. Extensive renovations have been made at the York Springs plant, a new heating unit and new toilet rooms installed, the building redecorated inside and out and fluorescent lighting and new machinery installed. The second floor, York Springs' first community assembly room, will house the offices and a York Springs retail outlet for the ladies' house dresses, "brunch" coats and house coats to be manufactured there.—Gettysburg Times photos.

Senior Girl Scouts Hostesses At Party

The Senior Girl Scouts arranged a 41st anniversary party Tuesday and had the Intermediate Troop and its leaders as their guests. An attractive table with a trefoil centerpiece of individual cup cakes and green leaf candleholders was the center of interest.

A birthday ceremony emphasizing the meaning and responsibilities of Girl Scouting was presented by the Senior Troop. Members of this troop are Jane Myers, Ann Millard, Darlene Baker, Irene Yost, Cynthia Flohr, Vivian Albert, Jane Lefever, and Analee Shillito with Mrs. Roy Krall as the leader.

Men's Night Marked By Women's Club

On Tuesday evening, the Dillsburg Women's Club held a monthly meeting at Nell's Restaurant. Men's Night was observed and a covered dish supper was served. Wayne Kile, York, an employe in the Soil Conservation section of the state Department of Agriculture, showed two films on soil conservation, one of which was made in York County. The program was arranged by the Conservation and Gardens Committee, including Mrs. Leon Gillette, Mrs. Dora Bowman, Mrs. Scott Dick, Harold Eline, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Henry Knaub. Mrs. Theodore Laukemann, Mrs. Chas. Rider and Mrs. John Wagner.

Bury Workers Mark 30th Anniversary

The Busy Workers of the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church celebrated their thirtieth anniversary Tuesday evening with a turkey dinner at the York Springs Fire Hall. Seventy-two persons were present. The meal was cooked and served by the Always Faithful Sunday School class of the York Springs Lutheran Church.

There was a song of welcome by Mrs. Eugene Smith and Mrs. Lee Karns followed by the invocation by Rev. N. L. Bortner, pastor of the church. Group singing was led by Mrs. Karns and Mrs. Bortner. Readings were given by Mrs. John Brough and Mrs. Louis Johnson. A history of the group's activities was presented by Miriam Byers.

The names of the charter members were read, ten of whom were present. Several solos were sung by Mesdames Smith and Karns.

A letter of regret was read from Rev. Paul Glatfelter of Jacobus, a former pastor, who had been invited to speak. Rev. Glatfelter stated that his health did not permit him to attend in the winter time. A short period of prayer was devoted to those of the society who had passed on. The affair closed with song and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Bortner who also served as toastmaster.

YANKS TO HAVE ENOUGH AMMO FOR BIG DRIVE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson said today enough ammunition will be available soon to give the Eighth Army command in Korea "considerable latitude" in determining whether there should be "a more active type of operations."

His statement, carrying a hint of possible early stepped up blows, or even a limited offensive against the Communists, was made to senators inquiring into the ammunition supply situation.

Wilson said ammunition production has been expanded rapidly in recent months. He declared supplies in Korea are adequate to meet present needs.

Wilson was first of a number of top level civilian and military leaders to testify before the Senate Armed Services Committee at an inquiry into charges by Gen. James A. Van Fleet that supplies of some ammunition have been and still are critically short.

Van Fleet Started Fires

Van Fleet, retiring commander of the Eighth Army in Korea, stirred up the controversy over ammunition shortages by public and closed-door testimony before Senate committees last week.

For what senators called Tuesday's "showdown," Van Fleet met face-to-face with Wilson, Secretary of the Army Stevens; Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, and other Pentagon leaders.

Although the hearing was behind closed doors, prepared statements by chairman Saltonstall (R—Mass) and Secretary Wilson were handed to reporters outside.

Saltonstall told the military and defense leaders that Congress and the public "are seriously distributed about conflicting reports as to the adequacy of ammunition supplies avilable to our fighting forces in Korea."

Production Improved

Wilson indicated in his statement that he and President Eisenhower had gone into the question of ammunition shortages and Gen. Van Fleet's complaints at the time they visited Korea last year after the election and prior to taking office.

The defense secretary said that ammunition production had been stepped up sharply recently, especially in types that had been short

He said February production was 114 per cent of the ammunition actually fired or used in January.

There have been recurrent reports for months of an ammunition shortage. Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, went before the Senate group several months ago and told them enough ammunition had been furnished at all times for the Eight Army to carry out its mission in Korea.

Bradley is out of town on an overseas mission and was not among those appearing at Tuesday's meeting.

SCIENTIST IS GIVEN AWARD

CARLISLE, Pa.—Dickinson College gave its Priestley Science Award Tuesday night to one of its most distinguished graduates and a native Pennsylvanian, Dr. Paul R. Burkholder, Yale botanist and discoverer of the wonder drug chloromycetin, cure for epidemic typhus, typhoid fever and other diseases.

"Your discovery makes you one of man's greatest benefactors," Dr. William E. Edel, Dickinson president, told the noted scientist whose studies of soil samples from all parts of the world led to the development of the diesase-curing drug.

Dr. Burkholder, who was born 52 years ago in a country church parsonage in Franklin County, has also originated new ways to produce Vitamin B2 (riboflavin) in quantities and has done important work in retarding food spollage.

The award, which Dickinson makes each year to a scientist for "research, discovery or production benefiting mankind," was presented during the college's annual celebration honoring the memory of Joseph Priestley, discoverer of of oxygen. Historic laboratory equipment once owned and used by Priestley has been in possession of the college since 1811.

Dr. Burkholder delivered the celebration address. He was introduced by Dr. Milton W. Eddy, Dickinson biologist, under whom he majored in biology at the college 30 years ago.

U. N. OFFENSIVE OVERSHADOWS "AMMO" PROBE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bigger issue of whether a new United Nations offensive is planned in Korea overshadowed today a Senate investigation into reported shortages of ammunition.

The Senate Armed Services Committee called a recess in what had been billed as a showdown inquiry into the assertion by Gen. James A. Van Fleet that there had been serious shortages of some kinds of ammunition for the 22 months he commanded the Eighth Army in Korea.

The action was taken after the committee yesterday heard Secretary of Defense Wilson say ammunition supplies have been built up sufficiently to enable the field commander to embark on a "more active type of operations" if such a step should be decided upon.

Behind Closed Doors

Wilson's statement, as given out to newsmen, did not say an offensive would be launched. Nor did any of the senators who heard him.

Van Fleet, just returned from Korea, spent hours before the committee ni a face-to-face exchange with top Pentagon officials, som of whom seemed to differ.

All this exchange was behind closed doors, but prepared statements by Pentagon officials were handed to reporters.

The Army chief of staff, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, said in his statement, "There has never been a shortage of ammunition either to repel an attack that actually developed or to conduct our own operations."

Borrowing From Navy

A statement from Secretary of the Army Stevens said the Army is borrowing from the Navy 685,000 rounds of 105-millimeter ammunition, and that production of heavier shells designed to blast the Reds out of their bunkers has been greatly stepped up.

Both Stevens and Wilson indicated there have been past shortages of some types of artillery shells, but that corrective steps are being taken.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who listened to the testimony, said in a statement that Van Fleet had not retreated on his testimony that ammunition shortages "interfered with the successful prosecution of the war in Korea and ... added to the perils and fatalities of our troops."

BABY CRUSHED

MILLERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 20-month old girl was crushed to death on Monday when a delivery truck pulled away from her home in Mifflin Township, about 15 miles northeast of here.

The child, Mary Elizabeth Kessler, had been inside a barn with her father, Raymond Kessler, when the truck stopped at the home. S. E. Ferrold of Lykens, deputy Dauphin County coroner, said the child was killed instantly when she was struck by the left front wheel of the truck.

Bury Ex-Prexy Of Temple On Thursday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Funeral services will be held Thursday for Dr. Charles E. Beury, former president of Temple University.

Dr. Beury, 73, died at Friends Hospital here on Monday after a long illness. A native of Shamokin, Pa., he served as Temple's president from 1926 to 1941.

During his tenure, Temple enrollment increased from 9,000 to more than 14,000 and faculty membership from 500 to more than 1,000. Assets increased some 10 million dollars.

Dr. Buery was graduated from Princeton University and Harvard University Law School. He was an attorney here from 1908 to 1920 and had been a Temple trustee since 1913.

Surviving are his widow, the former Alla P. Fischer of Shamokin a son, and three daughters.

POLAND HOLDS 6 DANISH BOATS FOR RED MIG15

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 10 (AP) — Reliable sources reported Tuesday that Communist Poland is holding six Danish fishing vessels captive in the port of Gdansk (Danzig), possibly in reprisal for Denmark's retention of a Soviet-built, Polish MIG15 jet fighter plane.

Authoritative sources said seven Danish fishing craft took refuge in the Polish port from a raging storm Sunday and were ordered to leave "in three minutes." One cutter, the Thailand, made it out in time, but the others were held.

The six ships carried a total of about 20 crewmen, the sources said. Their fate was unknown.

Though numerous Scandinavian craft have been detained by Polish Coast Guard vessels in recent years, six is the largest number ever held at one time. Political circles here viewed the action as retaliation for Denmark's failure so far to release the fugitive MIG.

The plane was flown last Thursday to the Danish island of Bornholm, 60 miles from the Polish coast, by a 21-year-old Polish fighter pilot who said he wanted political asylum. He has been held ever since by Danish authorities, who have not announced what they plan to do with him.

His plane, the first undamaged MIG to fall into Western hands, was disassembled and brought here yesterday by the small Danish lighthouse supply vessel Argus for close study by Air Force experts. Two small warships escorted the Argus on her eight-hour voyage across the Baltic.

OPPOSES RED HUNT AMONG CLERGYMEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Kearney (R-NY) said today he is "absolutely opposed" to any search by the House Un-American Activities Committee for Reds among clergymen and will demand a quick showdown on the suggestion.

Word from Chairman Velde (R-Ill) that the group might sometime undertake such an investigation stirred up protests from a number of church figures, including Velde's own pastor, and approval from others.

Velde said during a radio interview Monday night that "it is entirely possible" that the committee would get into the church field, possibly looking into the records of churchmen "who seem to have devoted more time to politics than they have to the ministry."

"Not Contemplated"

He issued a statement late yesterday saying that such an investigation had not been considered by the committee and "is not contemplated at this time by me . . . ."

His statement "does not preclude the possibility of such investigations in the future," Velde said, but he added, "there is no need as I see it to consider this matter further now."

Five of Velde's eight committee colleagues promptly made clear the chairman was not speaking for them in suggesting any such inquiry. Kearney said in an interview:

"I am demanding that Chairman Velde call a committee meeting immediately."

The Rev. Joseph H. Albrecht, pastor of the Pekin (Ill.) First Methodist Church, which Velde attends, said at Pekin that he thought the congressman believed in freedom of religion and speech. "If anything is done to impair these two freedoms, the basis of American freedom is jeopardized," the pastor said in a statement.

In New York, Dr. W. H. Bordeaux, general secretary of the American Council of Christian Churches, with which 16 small separatist groups are affiliated, said, "The searchlight on religious leaders has long been needed."

Rep. Kearney said he will throw his support behind a promised early move by Rep. Walter (D-Pa) to bind committee investigations to the will of the full group and not individual committee members.

TOWN NATIVE WRITES BOOK

A beautiful young woman is born as an adult one lovely morning in a bed of hyacinths with blood on her face and no memory of the past. This is the point of departure of "It's The Last Time," a new novel of suspense and romance by Jessie M. Beard, Harrisburg, Blue Cross official, published by Exposition Press Inc., New York City.

"It's The Last Time" is the story of Cynthia, "the glamorous amnesia victim, and of the two couples, happily married they thought, who took her in. It is a story of warring attractions of married love and infatuation, of selfishness and sacrifice, of sin and sanctity, and of death and duty."

Miss Beard says that she was inspired to write this book because: "Humans need an avenue of escape from the severity of their own problems. Two ways of achieving this escape could be through reading or seeing movies of the almost insupportable problems of others, and learning how they can be resolved through the development of human compassion and a keen sense of humor."

Jessie M. Beard was born and attended school in Gettysburg. She took a special course in hotel administration at the Lewis Hotel Training School, Washington, D. C., and night courses in various subjects at Harrisburg, and Hollywood, Cal.

Since 1938, Miss Beard has been associated with the Blue Cross Plan, Capital Hospital Service in Harrisburg.

Don't blame your car for STALLING until you try this GAS

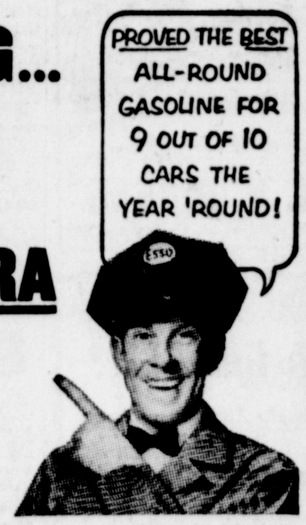

Esso Extra Gasoline now contains an added ingredient that helps prevent "carburetor icing" . . . one of the commonest causes of stalling. If your car stalls while the engine is warming up, wouldn't it pay you to try Esso Extra before you spend money on repairs that might not correct the trouble? Ask your Esso Dealer for full information.

If your car stalls in damp, cool weather (30° to 55°) during the first fifteen minutes of driving, the chances are the cause is carburetor icing. This is not the fault of your car. Mechanical adjustments can't cure it.

Esso Extra now contains built-in anti-freeze that virtually eliminates carburetor icing and the bothersome stalling it causes. It's especially good in cars with automatic transmissions, where restarting after stalling is more troublesome. In addition, Esso Extra gives you a great all-around combination of qualities . . . quick starting, fast warm-up, high anti-knock, power, and long mileage . . . everything you need for Happy Motoring from the instant you touch the starter. Is it any wonder more motorists use Esso Extra than any other premium gasoline in the area served by Esso Dealers?

BILL CUTTING INCOME TAXES MAY GET TEST

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—A bill to cut personal income taxes 10 per cent starting July 1 appeared likely today to face a test vote in the house in mid-April.

Whether it will be confined solely to reducing the tax rate or be opened to all sorts of amendments —including one to increase the personal exemption from $600 to $1,000—may depend on the attitude of the Republican leadership of the House.

That leadership—in line with President Eisenhower's position—is opposed to the bill in any form until the federal budget is balanced or close to being balanced.

To Force Vote

Tired of waiting for the leadership-controlled rules committee to send the bill to the floor, Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) announced yesterday he will force a vote if the rules committee doesn't act by April 15.

Reed, sponsor of the bill and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which approved it on Feb. 16, can demand a vote on the bill at any time. But if he does so, it would be open to all sorts of changes dealing with personal income taxes.

Asks Special Pledge

Rather than risk opening the measure to amendments, Reed has requested the rules committee to protect it with a special rule. His request twice has been rejected, and Chairman Leo Allen (R-Ill) has said he doesn't intend to alter his position until he is certain the federal Treasury can stand it.

Reed reportedly was seeking an informal agreement from Democrats and Republicans to vote against any changes in the bill. Such an agreement, however, wouldn't be binding.

Reed's position is that since excess profits taxes are due to expire July 1, individual tax cut would become effective next Jan. 1. Thus Reed's bill would have the effect of reducing personal income taxes for 1953 by 5 per cent.

Philly Cop Gets Job With Union

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The AFL Teamsters Union has hired Deputy Police Commissioner Richard J. Doyle to head a "preventive campaign" against subversion and racketeering in the labor union.

A member of the Philadelphia police force for 32 years, Doyle resigned on Monday—effective at the end of March—to take over his new job—described as public relations director for the joint council of the brotherhood. The council embraces 27 union locals with 75,000 members in Eastern Pennsylvania, South Jersey and Delaware.

Although Doyle's specific duties were not disclosed, international vice president Edward Crumbock of the teamster said his appointment was "an insurance measure, taken in advance to protect teamsters as a whole."

SENATE DELAYS CONFIRMATION OF CHIP BOHLEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia faced further delay today against a background of increasing tension in U. S.-Communist relations.

And the ceremonious funeral of Joseph Stalin was followed by the unceremonious burial by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of an Eisenhower-proposed resolution to condemn Russia for "perverting" wartime agreements by enslaving free peoples.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said the shooting down of an American fighter plane by two Russian-made MIG jets in the American zone of Germany emphasized a need for speeding Bohlen to Moscow, as urged last week by the State Department, to report on and analyze such developments.

Vote Next Tuesday

The plan of GOP leaders had been for the Senate to act on Bohlen's nomination today. But Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) postponed until next Tuesday yesterday's scheduled vote by the foreign relations committee. He acted at the request of Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Knowland (R-Calif).

At the same session, the committee voted to postpone action indefinitely on the anti-enslavement resolution urged by Eisenhower. There were no signs it would be revived anytime soon, if at all.

NEWSPAPER'S FORUM DRAWS PACKED HOUSES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A newspaper forum has developed today into an old-fashioned town meeting reflecting the gripes, hopes and fears of a whole nation.

Opening its seventh year's program, the Bulletin Forum has tapped deep wells of controversy and opinion to bring into open discussion:

1. A union leader's belief that private enterprise is going to take over public power projects and that "Du Pont and General Electric will take over (the atomic energy program) for a song."

Economies, Religion, Politics

2. A senator's conviction that the Democrats for 20 years have been "beating the brains out of the private enterprise system" and it's time that private enterprise got a break.

3. A rabbi's plea that "ours is an age of much fear and little faith"—and that faith in God must be restored for happiness and peace.

4. The dispute over whether congressional investigations are going beyond the bounds of reason and whether they give enough protection to witnesses called before them.

Draw Packed Houses

In these and other topics of discussion, the Bulletin Forum has taken on the atmosphere of a neighborhood meeting drawing packed houses and disclosing a strong public reaction to open discussion of ticklish questions.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), in the role of a defender of public enterprise, told the forum last night: "It hasn't been so much the laws passed in the last 20 years as it has been the attitude of our leadership in condemning and if I may use this expression, please, beating the brains out of the private enterprise system. . ."

James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, challenged the fairness of this statement and retorted: "In those 20 years, senator, business had a period of prosperity. They are doing so awfully well that they have now taken over the government."

Need Greater Faith

And then Carey went on to say that private enterprise will take over public power projects like the Tennessee Valley Authority and also the nation's atomic energy program on which he said the government had spent 20 billions of dollars.

The plea for greater faith came from Dr. Louis Binstock, chief rabbi of the Temple Sholom, Chicago, Ill.

Roger Baldwin, chairman of the National Committee of the American Civil Liberties Union, contended Congress has begun to move into the field of "opinion and thinking"—and that this is a dangerous thing.

Disagree On Frobes

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) agreed Congress should not investigate in that field—but he took issue with Baldwin on the value of congressional investigations, the need for them, and where the line should be drawn.

Baldwin insisted that investigations under the guise of protecting security or seeking out conspiracies could mean "you can lose your liberties."

Ferguson retorted: "I would say that you are more apt to lose your liberties by taking away the right of Congress to ascertain the facts by way of investigation."

NOTES ON GROWING PEPPERS

Peppers both sweet and hot varieties, are extremely tender plants. Too, they require a long season of warm weather to reach edible size. These two facts taken together suggest the major steps in a sound schedule of planting and care.

In order to gain at least eight weeks over outside weather conditions, seed should be sown in a sunny window box, warm coldframe, or mild hotbed around March 10 to 15. As soon as the tiny plants open true leaves, they should be shifted to individual pots or bands and placed in a snug coldframe to develop growth. Crowding, such as results from leaving pepper plants in the starting bed, usually leads to the loss of many plants and tall, spindly formations which rarely prove satisfactory.

To avoid damping-off, treat seed with Semesan before sowing. Sterilize the bed and individual container soil by the boiling water method to curb soil-borne diseases. This consists of drenching soil with boiling water and then drying it before use.

Plants should be started in soil that has never before been used for growing peppers or obtained from areas where no peppers have grown for several years.

Southern-grown commercial pepper plants are seldom worth their cost because they are spindly from crowding and they lose much of their vigor in shipment.

If well rotted compost or pulverized pasture-weathered cattle manure is mixed with soil in the individual containers, growth will be greatly stimulated.

Another desirable advantage from use of individual containers is gained when plants are transplanted to their growing places. This is done in May after the soil is warm and danger of cold spells is past. The transfer can easily be made without in any way interrupting growth. This saves at least ten days to two weeks of time over the old method of pulling plants from the ed.

Water pepper plants only in the morning and preferably on sunny, bright days. Ventilate freely to remove surplus moisture before night. At no time should plants be chilled. As transplanting time arrives, ventilate more to accustom plants to outdoor conditions. Too, water should be withheld or applied sparingly for several days before transplanting to harden the plants off.

If a cold snap arrives after pepper plants are set out, cover them over threatening nights with caps or other protectors.

Cutworms may take a heavy toll of pepper plants unless the culprits are killed off promptly with a poison bait.

Rotate peppers to new sites every year and avoid areas where tomatoes have grown in the last three or four years.

Dust with nicotine dust or spray with Black Leaf 40 in soapy water to control aphids.

Dust plants with rotenone as soon as flea beetles appear.

Despite the advice from state and federal authorities to use DDT for combat of insects on pepper plants, the editor warns gardeners against this dangerous insecticide.

A virus disease known as tobacco mosaic may be introduced on the hands of persons who use tobacco soon before they handle pepper plants. Therefore, smoking or chewing should be avoided near these susceptible plants. Too, for the same reason horse nettle and ground cherry weeds should be eradicated from the garden and closely adjoining areas.

The editor invites all related questions readers wish to ask about the culture of this nutritious vegetable.

In Hawaii, sugar cane fields are set afire just before harvest, the flames burning off the leaves and tassels which are useless and leaving the juicy stalks.

SPRAYING BRAMBLE FRUITS

Every grower of raspberries, blackberries or dewberries should follow a sound program of protective sprays to reduce disease and control insects. The editor has prepared a spray schedule for these fruits, beginning with a dormant application which should be applied at once. Send a stamped, addressed envelope or 3-cent stamp for your free copy today. And of course, related fruit and garden questions are invited.

HOUSE PASSES STATEHOOD FOR ALASKA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fight to make Hawaii the 49th state shifted to the Senate today after the House passed a statehood bill for the third time yesterday.

Senate leaders have predicted committee approval within a few days to clear the way for Senate action about April 1.

The house amended the bill, writing in among other things provision for another congressional vote—to ratify the new state's constitution—before Hawaii could actually be admitted. Then it passed the amended bill on a 274-138 rollcall vote. Democratic leaders lost a bitter battle to return it to committee for further study.

The house first passed a Hawaii statehood bill in 1947 by a vote of 197-133, and again in 1950 by 262-110.

The recommittal motion, made by Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex), was supported by Democrats seeking to force action on the Alaska statehood bill, as well as opponents of statehood for both territories. The move was defeated on a 227-182 rollcall.

Hawaii Is GOP

Hawaii is traditionall Republican, while Alaska normally is considered Democratic.

Twenty-eight Democrats and 199 Republicans voted against the motion to recommit. Voting for it were 166 Democrats, 15 Republicans and one independent.

On final passage, 177 Republicans and 97 Democrats voted for the bill, while 100 Democrats, 37 Republicans and one independent voted against it.

The House made two major changes in the bill as it was reported by the House Interior Committee.

It voted, 188-134, to limit Hawaii's representation in the House to one member, although the territory's population of 499,740 in 1950 would normally entitle it to two House members.

The house also voted to require Hawaii to come back to Congress later for approval of its state constitution, instead of leaving it up to the President to determine that the constitution conforms with the provisions of the bill and the United States Constitution.

Wants All Legal Holidays To Be Fixed For Mondays

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster) wants to make it easier to enjoy long holiday week ends.

His idea is simple. Just fix it so most of the legal holidays fall on a Monday.

Under a bill he introduced in the Senate last night, the third Monday of February would become President Day. That, of course, would take care of Washington's and Lincoln's birthday.

Instead of observing May 30 as Memorial Day, the holiday would fall on the last Monday of May.

The first Monday in July would become Independence Day, spelling the end of the Fourth of July holiday.

And Thanksgiving? No more question of what Thursday it should be. His idea is to make it the fourth Monday in November.

BRITAIN LOSES 5,000 TONS OIL

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. today lost the first round of its battle to gain possession of 5,000 tons of disputed Iranian oil brought here by the tanker Miriella but immediately announced plans to carry the case to Rome.

A Venice court ruled that the oil had been purchased legally by the Supor Co. of Rome—charterers of the Miriella—from the Iranian National Oil Co. The tribunal ordered the release of the oil to the Rome organization.

In London, an AIOC spokesman announced: "We are immediately initiating proceedings in the Rome court.

"The Venice decision will not affect the outcome of this hearing," he added. "It means only that the oil will not remain physically impounded during the main hearing the merits of the case."

CANCER DRIVE

early discovery of cancer. "The earlier cancer is discovered," she pointed out, "the more likely it can be cured."

The board of directors of the hospital will be asked for more space at the hospital for the clinic. Mrs. Blocher described the making of bandages and the purchase of more than $1,000 worth of equipment by the society for the tumor clinic last year.

$3,000 In Equipment

Total value of the equipment in the tumor society is now $3,000, Mrs. Blocher reported.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolff outlined the work of the clinic and pointed out that it is not a diagnostic, but a referral unit. Patients who come to the clinic are those who are referred to it by their own doctor. Persons who may fear they are suffering from cancer should go to their own family physician for examination, Dr. Wolff said.

Since the clinic was established in May 1949 a total of 262 cases have been referred to it, Dr. Wolff said. In both 1950 and 1951 seventy cases were before the clinic, in 195 there were 89 cases. Skin cancer was treated in 92 of the cases.

Dr. C. Harold Johnson showed slides on how the slide projector is used to determine whether cancer actually exists.

Chairmen Are Named

Following the meeting members of the society were escorted on a tour of the clinic. President Richard A. Brown presided at the meeting.

Named by the campaign chairmen as divisional chairmen for the drive were the following:
